

Building Spiritual Leaders

The second thirty lessons complete the training for leadership of a spiritual movement. The focus of these lessons is on multiplication of small groups as a strategy for both personal and community growth and equipping leaders to reach a target area for Christ. It is the mentor's job to help the student actually build a ministry of multiplication which leads to a spiritual movement.

Notice that F2 and F3 are one topic split into two sessions. If these 30 classes are to be taught in a training that will have student notes printed for the whole year (or even for half of the year), please see the Teacher's notes for F5 and F6 before printing. Read the Teacher's Notes for F1 to see if the instructor may want to order materials to supplement the class time.

I. Ministry Expectations

As in the "Foundation of Ministry," students will continue to be part of a team, reaching an area for Christ.

1. Develop personal skills in ministry:

- Share the gospel thirty times in company with disciple (note: As the student discipled people in evangelism, the disciple's evangelistic contacts can also be counted as the student's contacts).
- Help a disciple do the follow-up series with a new convert.
- Help disciple in evangelism and getting their own discipleship group started.
- Lead 15 group meetings.
- Develop a personal ministry plan and prayer team for reaching a target audience/area.
- Fill out weekly reports on learning and ministry.
- Read and discuss Nine Keys by Carl George.
- 7½ hours weekly involvement (1½ - class; 3 – field ministry; 1 – with mentor; 2 – preparation).
